Armed Forces Flag Day | National Current Affairs | 09 Dec 2025

Why in News?

The nation observed the Armed Forces Flag Day on 7th December 2025, with the Defence Minister urging generous contributions to the Armed Forces Flag Day Fund to support the welfare of Veer Naris, ex-servicemen, and their dependents.

- About: Armed Forces Flag Day (AFFD) has been held every year on 7th December since 1949 to honor the bravery and sacrifices of Indian Armed Forces personnel, especially veterans.
 - The day recognizes not only the sacrifices of fallen soldiers but also the contributions of their families, especially the war-disabled soldiers and War Widows (Veer Naris).
- AFFD Fund: The Armed Forces Flag Day Fund, originally created by the Ministry of Defence in 1949, was consolidated in 1993 by merging various welfare funds for war victims and exservicemen into a single unified fund.
 - The Kendriya Sainik Board (KSB) is responsible for administering the Armed Forces Flag Day Fund (AFFDF).
 - KSB also formulates and implements welfare and rehabilitation schemes for ex-servicemen and their families across India.
- Digital Solutions: SAMBANDH, a WhatsApp-based chatbot, allows veterans to easily report and resolve grievances. The platform has helped address over 1,700 cases in less than a year.
- Skill Development for Women: The Nari Sashaktikaran initiative focuses on empowering women, including widows of fallen soldiers, by providing job training and opportunities for economic independence.

 Project NAMAN: It aims to simplify pension services for veterans, ensuring easier access to services such as life certificate submissions and pension disbursements.

Bengaluru to Host New Defence MRO Hub | National Current Affairs | 09 Dec 2025

Why in News?

Tata Advanced Systems and Lockheed Martin have begun construction of a new Defence Maintenance, Repair and Overhaul (MRO) facility for the C-130J Super Hercules aircraft in Bengaluru, with completion targeted for 2026.

- Coverage: The facility will support multiple aircraft variants, including C-130J, KC-130J and C-130 B-H, becoming part of Lockheed Martin's global network of Certified Service Centres.
- Location: Situated at Bhatramarenahalli near Kempegowda International Airport, the centre will handle depot-level maintenance, heavy overhauls, component repair, structural checks and avionics upgrades.
- Training: The MRO will expand training opportunities for Indian engineers and technicians, strengthening domestic aerospace skills and creating new openings for Indian suppliers across the C-130 supply chain.
- Readiness: Lockheed Martin emphasised that the facility will boost the sustainment and operational readiness of the Indian Air Force's fleet of 12 C-130J aircraft, widely used for tactical airlift and humanitarian operations.
- Partnership: The project marks a major step in the long-standing India-U.S. defence partnership, reflecting over seven decades of collaboration and growing industrial cooperation.
- Indigenisation: Tata Advanced Systems noted that the MRO centre aligns with India's defence self-reliance goals, enhancing domestic capability, innovation and competitiveness under 'Make in India'.
- Collaboration: The facility builds on the success of Tata Lockheed Martin Aerostructures Limited, which recently delivered its 250th C-130J tail, underscoring a mature aerospace manufacturing partnership.
- Timeline: Construction is set to conclude by late 2026, with the first C-130 aircraft scheduled to enter the Bengaluru facility for MRO operations in early 2027.

Global Energy Leaders' Summit (GELS) 2025 | National Current Affairs | 09 Dec 2025

Why in News?

At the Global Energy Leaders' Summit (GELS) 2025 in Puri, Odisha Union Minister Pralhad Joshi highlighted India's central role in shaping global clean energy transitions, positioning the summit as a major platform for policymakers, innovators and industry leaders.

Key Points

- Vision: GELS 2025 marked the beginning of a long-term Community of Practice, with India confident that states like Odisha will lead the next phase of national green growth and energy innovation.
- Record: Speaking at GELS, the Minister announced India's highest-ever annual addition of nonfossil capacity, 31.25 GW, including 24.28 GW of solar, showcasing the country's accelerating clean energy progress.
- Contribution: He highlighted that as the world added its second terawatt of renewable capacity by 2024, India alone contributed 46 GW of solar between 2022-24, becoming the third-largest contributor globally.
- Growth: GELS underscored India's transformative solar expansion, rising from 2.8 GW to ~130 GW in 11 years, a 4,500% growth, making India a global model for rapid renewable deployment.
- Balance: The summit addressed India's dual challenge of being the second-largest coal consumer while simultaneously scaling renewables to remain competitive amid global industrial and trade transitions.
- Capacity: Odisha's clean energy progress was spotlighted at GELS, with 3.1 GW of renewable capacity, representing 34% of its total power capacity and marking strong state-level adoption.
- Initiative: A major announcement at the summit was the approval of a 1.5 lakh rooftop solar ULA model under PM Surya Ghar for Odisha, expected to benefit 7-8 lakh people, particularly low-income households.
- Adoption: GELS highlighted Odisha's rooftop solar uptake: 1.6 lakh applications, over 23,000 installations, and ₹147 crore in subsidies transferred to 19,200 families, reflecting strong implementation.
