भारतीय नारी न्याय, बलिदान, साहस, शक्ति तथा सेवा की सजीव मूर्ति है। जीवन के सुख-दुख में छाया की भाँति पुरुष का साथ देने के कारण वह अर्द्धांगिनी, घर की व्यवस्थापिका होने के कारण वह लक्ष्मी, श्लाघनीय गुणों के कारण वह देवी कही जाती है। स्वार्थ और भोग-लिप्सा

को तिलांजलि देकर भारतीय नारी ने आत्म-बलिदान द्वारा समय-समय पर ऐसी ज्योति प्रज्वलित की है कि उसके पुनीत प्रकाश में पुरुष ने अपना मार्ग ढूँढ़ा है। उसकी शक्ति के सामने यमराज को हारना पड़ा है। सती सावित्री, वीरांगना लक्ष्मीबाई, तपस्विनी उर्मिला की दिव्य झाँकियाँ प्रेरणा के स्रोत हैं और पुरुष को चेतना तथा जागरण का संदेश देती हैं। नारी का सम्मान करके ही पुरुष का जीवन कुसुम सुवासित होता है। भारतीय संस्कृति के अनुसार जहाँ नारी का सम्मान होता है, वहाँ देवता निवास करते हैं।

Climate change will have serious implications as numerous adverse impacts are expected in terms of access to clean water, food and ecosystem resources. By 2020, it is feared that in some African countries yields from rain fed agriculture could be reduced by upto 50%. Climate change is also likely to lead to some irreversible impacts on bio-diversity. However, it is within the reach of human society to meet these threats. We have to adapt to the climate change. It requires investment in storm protection and water supply infrastructures as well as community health services. Bringing changes in lifestyle is an important part of mitigation measures. Greater co-operative efforts are required by both developed and developing nations to stop emission of greenhouse gases. The youth of today have a huge responsibility towards creating a bright future and they must pursue knowledge by which economic progress can take place without changing the environment.

8. Write a precise of the following passage and give a suitable title: 10

PASSAGE

The saddest part of life lies not in the act of dying, but in failing to truly live while we are alive. Too many of us play small with our lives, never letting the fullness of our humanity see the light of day. I've learned that what really counts in life, in the end, is not how many toys we have collected or how much money we've accumulated, but how many of our talents we have liberated and used for a purpose that adds value to this world. What truly matters most are the lives we have touched and the legacy that we have left. Tolstoy put it so well when he wrote: "We live for ourselves only when we live for others." It took me forty years to discover this simple point of wisdom. Forty long years to discover that success cannot really be pursued. Success ensues and flows into your life as the unintended yet inevitable by product of a life spent enriching the lives of other people. When you shift your daily focus from a compulsion to survive towards a lifelong commitment to serve, your existence cannot help but explode into success. I still can't believe that I had to wait until the "half-time" of my life to figure out that true fulfillment as a human being comes not from achieving those grand gestures that put us on the front pages of the newspapers and business magazines, but instead from those basic and incremental acts of decency that each one of us has the privilege to practice each and every day if we simply make the choice to do so.

Mother Teresa, a great leader of human hearts if ever there was one, said it best: "There are no great acts, only small acts done with great love." I learned this the hard way in my life. Until recently, I had been so busy striving, I had missed out on living. I was so busy chasing life's big pleasures that I had missed out on the little ones, those micro joys that weave themselves in and out of our lives on a daily basis but often go unnoticed. My days were overscheduled, my mind was overworked and my spirit was underfed.
