A.T. Kearney Foreign Direct Investment Confidence Index- 2018

- India in 2018 has fallen out of the top 10 destinations for FDI in terms of its attractiveness, according to an AT Kearney report.
- The report cites teething troubles in the implementation of the goods and services tax and the government's demonetisation decision in 2016 as the two reasons for this.
- India ranks 11 in the 2018 AT Kearney FDI Confidence Index, down from 8 in 2017 and 9 in 2016.
- However, the report highlighted reforms like removing the Foreign Investment Promotion Board and liberalising FDI limits in key sectors as responsible for India's high rankings in terms of FDI attractiveness, amongst competing countries.
- The report cautioned potential investors about political risks such as China abolishing presidential term limits and the upcoming general election in India.
