India - Scores for Women, Business and the Law 2023

Globally:

- Only 14 scored a perfect 100: Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Germany, Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Latvia, Luxemburg, The Netherlands, Portugal, Spain and Sweden.
- In 2022, the global average score is 76.5 out of 100.
- Nearly 2.4 billion women of working age around the world live in economies that do not grant them the same rights as men.
- At the current pace of reform, it would take at least 50 years to approach legal gender equality everywhere.
- Progress toward equal treatment for women has fallen to its weakest pace in 20 years.
 - Most reforms focused on increasing paid leave for parents and fathers, removing restrictions on women's work, and mandating equal pay.
 - Progress across the areas measured has also been uneven, with most reforms in Workplace and Parenthood.

What are the Areas India needs to Focus on?

- Laws affecting pay, pension, inheritance and property rights. The laws affecting the Indian working woman's pay and pension do not provide for equality with Indian men.
 - To improve on the Pay indicator, India should mandate equal remuneration for work of equal value, allowing women to work at night, and allowing women to work in an industrial job in the same way as men.
- In India laws affecting women's pay, laws affecting women's work after having children, constraints on women starting and running a business, gender differences in property and inheritance, and laws affecting the size of a woman's pension, India could consider reforms to improve legal equality for women.
 - For example, one of the lowest scores for India is on the indicator measuring laws affecting women's pay (the WBL2023 Pay indicator).
 - Globally, on average, women enjoy only 77 percent of the legal rights that men do.
