

Two women boxers from Haryana won two gold medals in the World Boxing Championship

Why in News?

On 25 March 2023, in the finals of the Women's World Boxing Championship at the Indira Gandhi Indoor Sports Complex in New Delhi, two players from Haryana - Neetu Ghanghas and Sweety Boora brought laurels to Haryana and India by winning gold medals.

Key Points

- It is known that Neetu Ghanghas is a resident of Dhanana village in Bhiwani district of the state and Sweety Bura is from Ghirai village of Hisar district.
- Neetu Ghanghas' final bout in the 45-48 kg category was against Mongolia's Lutshekhon Altantseg. In this match, Neetu won the gold medal by defeating the boxer of Mongolia 5-0, displaying her brilliant game.
- It is noteworthy that Neetu Ghanghas had made India and Haryana proud by winning the gold medal in the Commonwealth Games last year.
- On the other hand, Sweety Boora won the gold medal by defeating China's Wang Lina in the 81 kg weight category. Sweety won the bout by a 4-3 split decision. Earlier, Sweety Boora had won the silver medal in the same competition nine years back.

PDF Reference URL: <https://www.drishtiias.com/printpdf/two-women-boxers-from-haryana-won-two-gold-medals-in-the-world-boxing-championship>