Question 49:

Which of the following is correct about term 'Vidhata' used in Ancient Indian History?

1. Folk assembly of Vedic period meant for the economic, social and military purpose.
2. A term used in Jainism to refer to the creator of the universe.
3. A deity associated with agriculture in ancient Indian texts.
4. A Buddhist term referring to the ultimate nature of reality.

Correct Answer : 1

Explanation

Sabha and Samiti

- The term 'Sabha' referred to an assembly in the Rig Vedic period. The elder members of the 'Jana' took part in the 'Sabha'. This assembly was also attended by women known as 'Sabhavati'. In the later Vedic period, however, women stopped attending the 'Sabha'.
- Music, dance, magic, and witchcraft were also practised at the 'Sabha' along with dicing and gambling. This assembly performed administrative and judicial functions, exercised its judicial authority, and also discussed pastoral affairs.
- The political business and discussions performed in the folk assembly were known as 'Samiti'. The 'Samiti' was responsible for electing the 'Rajan'. Apart from political business, the 'Samiti' also discussed philosophical issues. Prayers and religious ceremonies were a major concern for this assembly. This assembly, however, gained importance only towards the end of the Early Vedic period.

Vidhata

- Vidhata was the earliest tribal assembly. The term 'Vidhata' has been repeated in the Rig Vedas 122 times and, therefore, seems like the most important assembly. The purpose of this assembly was to make decisions for secular, military, economic, social, and religious purposes.
- The participation of women in the 'Sabha' is indicated only once in the Rig Veda. However, there is a frequent mention of the participation of women in the 'Vidhata'. Women also took part in the discussions of the assembly.
- This was the earliest folk assembly of the Rig Vedic period. The different clans and tribes used the 'Vidhata' as a common ground for the worship of their Gods. Hence, option A is correct.

Question 65:

'Vaibhasika' is a subset of which one of the following?

1. Jainism
2. Ajivika
3. Buddhism
4. Vaishnavism

Correct Answer : 3

Explanation

- Sarvastivada, (Sanskrit: "Doctrine That All Is Real") also called Vaibhashika, a school of early Buddhism. Hence, option C is correct.
- A fundamental concept in Buddhist metaphysics is the assumption of the existence of dharmas, cosmic factors and events that combine momentarily under the influence of a person's past deeds to form a person's life flux, which he considers his personality and career. Differences arose among the various early Buddhist schools concerning the ontological reality of these dharmas.
- While, like all Buddhists, the Sarvastivadins consider everything empirical to be impermanent, they maintain that the dharma factors are eternally existing realities. The dharmas are thought to function momentarily, producing the empirical phenomena of the world, which is illusory, but to exist outside the empirical world. In contrast, the Sautrantikas (those for whom the sutras, or the scriptures, are authoritative) maintained that the dharma factors are not eternal but momentary, and the only actually existing dharmas are the ones presently functioning.
- The Sarvastivada school is also known as the Vaibhashika because of the 2nd-century-CE commentary Mahavibhasha ("Great Elucidation"). This text itself was commented upon by the important 4th- or 5th-century Buddhist thinker Vasubandhu in his Abhidharmakosha, prior to his conversion to the Mahayana tradition of Buddhism. Thus, elements of the Sarvastivada school came to influence Mahayana thought.

1. The Portuguese established the first European factory in India at Calicut.
2. Vasco da Gama's arrival in Calicut marked the beginning of direct sea routes from Europe to India.
3. Albuquerque's 'Blue Water Policy' aimed at dominating Indian Ocean trade.

4. The Portuguese dominance in the spice trade led to the decline of Indian spice merchants.

Select the correct answer using the code below:

1. 1 and 2 only
2. 2 and 3 only
3. 1, 2, and 3 only
4. 3 and 4 only

Correct Answer : 3

Explanation

- The Portuguese established the first European factory in India at Calicut in 1500. Hence, statement 1 is correct.
- Vasco da Gama's arrival in Calicut in 1498 marked the beginning of direct sea routes from Europe to India. Hence, statement 2 is correct.
- Albuquerque's 'Blue Water Policy' aimed at dominating the Indian Ocean trade by securing control over key maritime routes. Hence, statement 3 is correct.
- The Portuguese dominance in the spice trade did not directly lead to the decline of Indian spice merchants; instead, it resulted in increased competition and conflicts with other European powers. Hence, statement 4 is not correct.

Hence, option C is correct

Question 72:

Which of the following statements regarding the English East India Company's early ventures in India are true?

1. The English established their first factory in India at Surat.

4. The English initially focused on spice trade and later shifted to textile trade.

Select the correct answer using the code below:

1. 1 and 2 only
2. 2 and 3 only

3. 1, 2, and 3 only

4. 2, 3, and 4 only

Correct Answer : 4

Explanation

- The English established their first factory in India at Masulipatnam, not Surat. Hence, statement 1 is not correct.
- Sir Thomas Roe was the first English ambassador to the Mughal court during the reign of Jahangir. Hence, statement 2 is correct.
- The Battle of Plassey in 1757 marked the beginning of British political dominance, but it was fought between the British East India Company and Siraj-ud-Daulah, the Nawab of Bengal. Hence, statement 3 is correct.
- The English initially focused on spice trade and later shifted their focus to textile trade. Hence, statement 4 is correct.

Hence, option D is correct.

Question 73:

Regarding the Dual Government in Bengal, consider the following statements:

1. The dual system of government was introduced by Warren Hastings in Bengal.
2. Under the dual government system, the Company acquired the Diwani functions from the Subhadhar of Bengal.
3. This system led to an administrative breakdown and proved disastrous for the people of Bengal.

How many of the above statements are correct?

1. Only one
2. Only two
3. All three
4. None

Correct Answer : 1

Explanation

- Robert Clive introduced the dual system of government, i.e., the rule of the two—the Company and the Nawab—in Bengal in which both the Diwani, i.e., collecting revenues, and Nizamat, i.e., police and judicial functions, came under the control of the Company. Warren Hastings did away with the dual system in 1772. Hence, statement 1 is not correct.
- The Company acquired the Diwani functions from the emperor and the Nizamat functions from the subahdar of Bengal. Hence, statement 2 is not correct.
- The dual system led to an administrative breakdown and proved disastrous for the people of Bengal. Neither the Company nor the Nawab cared for administration and public welfare. Hence, statement 3 is correct.

Question 74:

Consider the following pairs:

Battle	Associated Treaty
1. Battle of Buxar	Treaty of Serringpatnam

3. Battle of Poona	Treaty of Allahabad

How many of the above pairs are correctly matched?

1. Only one pair
2. Only two pairs
3. All three pairs
4. None of the above

Correct Answer : 4

Explanation

- The Treaty of Allahabad was signed on 16 August 1765, between the Mughal Emperor Shah Alam II and Robert Clive, of the East India Company, in the aftermath of the Battle of Buxar on 22 October 1764. Hence, pair 1 is not correctly matched.
- The Treaty of Seringapatam 1792, ended the Third Anglo-Mysore War. Its signatories included Lord Cornwallis on behalf of the British East India Company, representatives of the Nizam of Hyderabad and the Maratha Empire, and Tipu Sultan, the ruler of Mysore. Hence, pair 2 is not correctly matched.
- The Treaty of Bassein was a pact between the English East India Company and Baji Rao II, the Maratha confederacy's Peshwa, it was signed on 31 December 1802 after the Battle of Poona, at the present-day Bassein (Vasai). Hence, pair 3 is not correctly matched.

Question 75:

With reference to the Subsidiary Alliance System, consider the following statements:

1. It was pioneered by Lord Wellesley in India.
2. The allying Indian state's ruler was compelled to accept the permanent stationing of a British force within his territory.
3. When the state failed to pay the money in time, it was asked to cede certain parts of its territories to the Company in lieu of payment.

Which of the statements given above is/are correct?

1. 1 and 2 only
2. 2 and 3 only
3. 1 and 3 only
4. 1, 2 and 3

Correct Answer : 2

Explanation

- The system of subsidiary alliances was pioneered by the French East India Company governor Joseph François Dupleix, who in the late 1740s established treaties with the Nizam of Hyderabad, and other Indian princes in the Carnatic region. It was probably Dupleix, who first gave on hired European troops to Indian rulers to fight their wars.
 - The subsidiary alliance system was used by Lord Wellesley, who was governor general from 1798-1805, to build an empire in India. Hence, statement 1 is not correct.
- Under the system, the allying Indian state's ruler was compelled to accept the permanent stationing of a British force within his territory and to pay a subsidy for its maintenance. Hence, statement 2 is correct.
- In the last stage, the money or the protection fee was fixed, usually at a high level; when the state failed to pay the money in time, it was asked to cede certain parts of its territories to the Company in lieu of payment. Hence, statement 3 is correct.

Question 76:

Consider the following pairs:

Policy	Associated Governor General
1. Policy of Masterly Inactivity	John Lawrence
2. Policy of Proud Reserve	Auckland
3. Policy of Ring Fence	Warren Hastings

How many of the above pairs are correctly matched?

1. Only one pair
2. Only two pairs
3. All three pairs
4. None of the above

Correct Answer : 2

Explanation

- John Lawrence (1864-69) started a policy of masterly inactivity, which was a reaction to the disasters of the First Afghan War and an outcome of practical common sense and an intimate knowledge of the frontier problem and of Afghan passion for independence. Hence, pair 1 is correctly matched.
- Lytton started a new foreign policy of 'proud reserve', which was aimed at having scientific frontiers and safeguarding 'spheres of influence'. According to Lytton, the relations with Afghanistan could no longer be left ambiguous
 - Auckland who came to India as the governor-general in 1836, advocated a forward policy. This implied that the Company government in India itself had to take the initiative to protect the boundary of British India from a probable Russian attack. Hence, pair 2 is not correctly matched.
- Warren Hastings took charge as the governor general at a critical period of British rule when the British were to encounter the powerful combination of the Marathas, Mysore, and Hyderabad.
 - He followed a policy of ring-fence which aimed at creating buffer zones to defend the Company's frontiers. Hence, pair 3 is correctly matched.

 - The amount to be paid was fixed permanently.
- Mahalwari Settlement (1822):
 - It was devised by Holt Mackenzie in the Northwestern Provinces (region of Agra, Oudh and Punjab).
 - Collectors went from village to village, inspecting the land, measuring the fields, and recording the customs and rights of different groups.
 - The estimated revenue of each plot within a village was added up to calculate the revenue that each village (Mahal) had to pay.
 - This demand was to be revised periodically.
 - The charge of collecting the revenue and paying it to the Company was given to the village headman, rather than the zamindar.
- Ryotwari System (1820): It was started in South India by Captain Alexander Read and Thomas Munro. Hence, 2 and 3 are correct.
 - This system allowed the government to deal directly with the peasant (ryot) for revenue collection, and gave the peasant freedom to give up or acquire new land for cultivation.

Question 90:

Which of the following is correct about the real British motive behind Bengal partition?

1. Bengal had become too big to be administered, hence administrative convenience was the reason behind the partition.
2. Partition would help in the development of Assam.
3. British desire to weaken Bengal, the nerve centre of Indian nationalism.
4. Dacca could become the capital of the new Hindu majority province.

Correct Answer : 3

Explanation

- The official reason given for the partition was that Bengal had become too big to be administered and that partition would help in the development of Assam. However, the real motive behind the partition plan was seen to be the British desire to weaken Bengal, the nerve centre of Indian nationalism. This was sought to be achieved by putting the Bengalis under two administrations by dividing them on the basis of language and religion, and reducing the Bengalis to a minority in Bengal itself.
- The viceroy at that time, Lord Curzon, tried to woo the Muslims by arguing that Dacca could become the capital of the new Muslim majority province, which would provide them with a unity not experienced by them since the days of old Muslim viceroys and kings. Hence, option C is correct.

Question 91:

2. 4, 3 2, 1
3. 1, 2, 3, 4
4. 3, 1, 4, 2

Correct Answer : 2

Explanation

- There were many reasons for Change in the Muslim League's Attitude. The Calcutta session of the Muslim League (1912) had committed the League to "working with other groups for a system of self- government suited to India, provided it did not come in conflict with its basic objective of protection of interests of the Indian Muslims":
 - Annulment of partition of Bengal in 1911 had annoyed those sections of the Muslims who had supported the partition.
 - Britain's refusal to help Turkey (ruled by the Khalifa who claimed religio-political leadership of all Muslims) in its wars in the Balkans (1912-13) and with Italy (during 1911) had angered the Muslims.
- Montagu's Statement of August 1917 or August Declaration of 1917: In 1917, the British government announced a policy of increasing Indian participation in government and gradually moving towards self-governance. This meant that Indian nationalists' demand for self-government was no longer considered seditious.
- The Komagata Maru incident - 1914: Komagata Maru was the name of a ship which was carrying 370 passengers, mainly Sikh and Punjabi Muslim would-be immigrants, from Singapore to Vancouver. They were turned back by Canadian authorities after two months of privation and uncertainty.

- It was generally believed that the Canadian authorities were influenced by the British government. The ship finally anchored at Calcutta in September 1914.
- Hence, option B is correct.

Question 96:

Consider the following statements regarding Dyarchy as per Govt of India Act 1919:

1. It was the rule of two i.e. executive councillors and popular ministers.
2. Unlike executive councillors, Ministers were to be responsible to the legislature.
3. There were two lists of Subjects called 'reserved' and 'transferred'.
4. Unlike reserved subjects, the governor general could interfere in respect of transferred subjects.

Which of the statements given above is/are correct?

1. 1 only
2. 1 and 2 only
3. 1, 2 and 3 only
4. 1, 2, 3 and 4

Correct Answer : 3

Explanation

Montagu-Chelmsford Reforms and Government of India Act, 1919:

- Dyarchy, i.e., rule of two—executive councillors and popular ministers—was introduced.
- The governor was to be the executive head in the province. Hence, statement 1 is correct.
- Subjects were divided into two lists: 'reserved' which included subjects such as law and order, finance, land revenue, irrigation, etc., and 'transferred' subjects such as education, health, local government, industry, agriculture, excise, etc. Hence, statement 3 is correct.
- The reserved subjects were to be administered by the governor through his executive council of bureaucrats, and the transferred subjects were to be administered by ministers nominated from among the elected members of the legislative council.
- The ministers were to be responsible to the legislature and had to resign if a no-confidence motion was passed against them by the legislature, while the executive councillors were not to be responsible to the legislature. Hence, statement 2 is correct.
- In case of failure of constitutional machinery in the province the governor could take over the administration of transferred subjects also.
- The secretary of state for India and the governor general could interfere in respect of reserved subjects while in respect of the transferred subjects, the scope for their interference was restricted. Hence, statement 4 is not correct.

Question 97:

Consider the following statements about 'Swarajists' and 'No changers':

1. 'Swarajists' were the part of that section of congress which opposed entry into legislative council and advocated continuing the resistance for the goal of swaraj.
2. 'No changers' among congress advocated for continued struggle in varied forms and opposed the activities like constructive programs.

Which of the statements given above is/are correct?

1. 1 only
2. 2 only
3. Both 1 and 2
4. Neither 1 nor 2

Correct Answer : 4

Explanation

- After Gandhi's arrest (March 1922), there was disintegration, disorganisation, and demoralisation among nationalist ranks. A debate started among Congressmen on what to do during the transition period, i.e., the passive phase of the movement.
- Those advocating entry into legislative councils came to be known as the 'Swarajists', while the 'No-Changers' opposed council entry, advocated concentration on constructive work, and continuation of boycott and non-cooperation, and quiet preparation for resumption of the suspended civil disobedience programme. Hence, statement 1 & 2 are not correct.

Question 98:

With reference to Indian freedom struggle, consider the following events:

1. Mutiny in Royal Indian Navy
2. Quit India Movement launched
3. Second Round Table Conference

What is the correct chronological sequence of the above events?

1. 1 - 2 - 3
2. 2 - 1 - 3

3. 3 - 2 - 1

4. 3 - 1 - 2

Correct Answer : 3

Explanation

- Royal Indian Navy Mutiny: It broke out in February 1946, when a section of non-commissioned officers and sailors known as Ratings revolted against British officers. It started as a strike demanding better food and accommodation. The mutiny came to an end with the intervention of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel and Muhammad Ali Jinnah. The mutineers surrendered on 23rd February 1946.
 - Quit India Movement: Mahatma Gandhi decided to initiate a new phase of the movement called Quit India Movement against the British in August 1942. He gave the slogan, 'do or die' to the masses and asked them to protest non-violently. Gandhi and other leaders were jailed at once, but the movement took its own course.
 - Second Round Table Conference: A Second Round Table Conference was held in London during September 1931 to December 1931. Here, Gandhi represented the Indian National Congress (INC). It was the only Round Table Conference in which INC participated. Hence, option C is correct.

Question 99:

Consider the following statements regarding the Round Table Conferences:

1. At the First Round Table Conference, it was agreed that all departments except for defence and finance would be transferred.
2. At the Second Round Table Conference, India's constitutional future was discussed and decided.
3. Third Round Table Conference proposed the draft Bill for Government of India Act of 1935.

Which of the following statements given above is/are correct?

1. 1 only
2. 1 and 3 only
3. 2 and 3 only
4. 1, 2 and 3

Correct Answer : 2

Explanation

- First Round Table Conference: Nothing much was achieved at the conference. It was generally agreed that India was to develop into a federation, there were to be safeguards regarding defence and finance, while other departments were to be transferred. Hence, statement 1 is correct.
- Second Round Table Conference: The lack of agreement among the many delegate groups meant that no substantial results regarding India's constitutional future would come out of the conference. Hence, statement 2 is not correct.
- Third Round Table Conference: It was not attended by the Indian National Congress and Gandhi. It was ignored by most other Indian leaders.
 - The recommendations were published in a White Paper in March 1933 and debated in the British Parliament afterwards. A Joint Select Committee was formed to analyse the recommendations and formulate a new Act for India, and that committee produced a draft Bill in February 1935, which was enforced as the Government of India Act of 1935 in July 1935. Hence, statement 3 is correct.

Question 100:

Consider the following statements regarding Quit India Movement (QIM):

1. Communists supported Quit India Movement.
2. Hindu Mahasabha and youth were in forefront while participating in the movement.
3. Gandhi started a fast to condemn violence by the masses in the form of Parallel governments.

Which of the statements given above is/are not correct?

1. 1 only
2. 1 and 2 only
3. 1, 2 and 3 only
4. All statements are correct.

Correct Answer : 3

Explanation

Quit India Movement: Extent of Mass Participation:

- Youth, especially the students of schools and colleges, remained in the forefront.
- Workers went on strikes and faced repression.
- Peasants of all strata were at the heart of the movement. Even some zamindars participated.

These peasants concentrated their offensive on symbols of authority, and there was complete absence of anti-zamindar violence.

- Muslims helped by giving shelter to underground activists. There were no communal clashes during the movement.
- The Communists did not join the movement; in the wake of Russia (where the communists were in power) being attacked by Nazi Germany, the communists began to support the British war against Germany and the 'Imperialist War' became the 'People's War'. Hence, statement 1 is not correct.
- The Muslim League opposed the movement, fearing that if the British left India at that time, the minorities would be oppressed by the Hindus.
- The Hindu Mahasabha boycotted the movement. The Princely states showed a low-key response. Hence, statement 2 is not correct.
- Gandhi Fasts: In February 1943, Gandhi started a fast as an answer to an exhortation by the government to condemn violence; the fast was directed against the violence of the State. Hence, statement 3 is not correct.
 - The popular response to the news of the fast was immediate and overwhelming. Protests were organised at home and abroad through hartals, demonstrations, and strikes. Three members of the viceroy's executive council resigned.
