

Booker Prize 2024

Source: HT

Recently, British author Samantha Harvey won the Booker Prize 2024 for her novel Orbital.

- Orbital is the first space book to win the Booker Prize.
- It explores Earth through the experiences of six astronauts aboard the International Space Station \(ISS\), witnessing 16 sunrises and sunsets daily.
- It is the second-shortest novel in Booker Prize history, with the shortest being Offshore* by Penelope Fitzgerald (132 pages).
- Harvey is the first woman to win the Booker Prize since Margaret Atwood in 2019.
- The Booker Prize: Established in the UK in 1969.
 - Awarded annually to the best sustained work of fiction.
 - Initially awarded to writers from Commonwealth nations. Now open to writers worldwide, regardless of origin.
 - Must be written in English and published in the UK or Ireland.

Read More: International Booker Prize 2024

PDF Reference URL: <https://www.drishtias.com/printpdf/booker-prize-2024-1>